

Clothing for all times.
But particularly for the present

TIME

Clothing comfort and clothing luxury for every hour of the day or night.
Heavy weight fleeced-lined underwear 50 cents per garment.
New fall shirts 98 cents.
Plain and fancy seamless socks two pairs for 25 cents

AT THE

WHEN

Imported Scotch cheviot 'varsity' sack suits $30.00

The DRESS GOODS DEP'TM'T

Is affected, perhaps, more quickly than other branches of the Business by the sharp change in Weather Conditions. This has been evidenced the past week by the large sales of

NAP. ED FABRICS

In "Waistings" and "Suiting Effects."

We Offer Representative Lines from all Leading Mills.

"Pacific Mills Fleeced Crepes," "Arnold Mills Superfine Flannels," "Windsor Mills Fleeced Velour Broche," "Cocheco Volga Fleeced," "Whitford Plain and Fancy Ramona Fleeced Flannels," "Creponet," "Bourette Frise," "Shamrock Fleeced," "Teazed Oxfords," "Fleeced Crepe," "Vicunas," Etc.

HIBBEN, HOLLWEG & CO.

IMPORTERS, JOBBERS,
DRY GOODS, NOTIONS, WOOLENS, ETC. (Wholesale Exclusively.)

BONDS

OWN AND OFFER—

Indiana County
G. R. 4 1/2% Bonds,
Netting Purchaser
4 1/4%

$26,000
City of Terre Haute
4% Bonds
Exempt from Tax

J. F. WILD & CO., Bankers

No. 205 Stevenson Building.

MANY AT THE MEETING

CHARITIES CONFERENCE AT FORT WAYNE IS WELL ATTENDED.

Over 300 Delegates Registered—Discussion of the Poorhouse Question—Next Meeting at Terre Haute.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
FORT WAYNE, Ind., Sept. 25.—The closing day of the Charities Conference found over 300 delegates registered, two-thirds of them being from other counties.

The morning session was chiefly devoted to the State's poorhouses and jails. Secretary Amos W. Butler taking the place of Ernest P. Bicknell, of Chicago. Mr. Butler set forth the improvement noted since the establishment of the Board of State Charities, but instanced Floyd county as having a jail which is a counterpart of the infamous stockade at Atlanta, Ga. The poorhouse of Marshall county, which is referred to in the conference as a model, was described by Superintendent Krueger. Rev.
Harvey A. Jones told of the effective agitation carried on by the County Board of Charities in Miami county. Papers were also read by P. S. Sullivan, president of the Township Trustees' Association, and by R. E.
McClure, auditor of Fayette county.

The conference selected Terre Haute for its next meeting place. The proposition to provide a week's programme annually at Winona was referred to the executive committee. Officers were elected as follows:

The round-tables this morning were well attended, especially that of the Juvenile Court, which was addressed by Mr. Jones.
The round-tables this morning were well attended, especially that of the Juvenile Court, which was addressed by Mr. Jones.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Demarcus C. Brown, Indianapolis; vice president, Samuel M. Foster, Fort Wayne; Theodore F. Rose, Muncie; Mrs. C. B. Oakes, Indianapolis; W. W. Ross, Evansville; Judge S. B. Davis, Terre Haute; P. O'Brien, South Bend; J. W. Macy, Winchester; the Rev. M. L. Haines, Indianapolis; D. J. Terhune, Linton; Mrs. Mary C. Lewis, Greenburg; secretary, Eugene H. Iglehart, Evansville; executive committee, James D.
Reid, Michigan City; the Rev. M. L. Haines, Lafayette; W. H. Whittaker, Jeffersonville; Dr. Joseph J. Rogers, Logansport; V. C. Ball, Terre Haute; Miss M. C. Taylor, Greencastle; T. E. Ellison, Fort Wayne; Frank C. Pliske, Terre Haute; John H.
Holliday, Indianapolis; C. M. Kimbrough, Muncie; Mrs. E. P. Goodrich, Winchester; the Rev. W. W. Kellogg, Indianapolis; John McGregor, Indianapolis; Judge George W.
Stubbs, Indianapolis; Prof. A. H. Graham, Knightstown; Mrs. John B. Egan, Indianapolis; Miss Elmore Robinson, Richmond.

VETERANS AT NOBLESVILLE.

Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
NOBLESVILLE, Ind., Sept. 25.—The reunion of the Nineteenth Indiana Battery and Company D, One-hundred-and-first Regiment, was held in this city yesterday and to-day. Many veterans were present.
The camp fire was held in the Christian

Meeting of Union Veterans' Union.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Robert S.
George, Byrdnforth, commander-in-chief of the Union Veterans' Union, today issued general orders announcing that the National Encampment of the order and the national convention of the Women's Veteran Relief Union would be held in Louisiville on Oct. 11 and 12.

ON SOLID FOUNDATION

HAS LITTLE EFFECT.

Trade of the Sultan Receives Sent Notice in Bulgaria.

SOFIA, Sept. 25.—Simultaneously with the issue of the trade appointing the mixed Macedonian commission, the report comes from Constantinople that the Porte has ordered the mobilization of two divisions of Asianic troops. The trade has created impression here. The belief prevails that the Sultan is acting solely in view of the approaching meeting between the Russian and Austrian Emperors and with the hope of convincing them that he is anxious to maintain peace.

A dispatch from Rila says the insurgents, encouraged by their recent success in abandoning a strictly defensive attitude and are preparing to take the offensive. The insurgents are reported to have taken the stocks of provisions in their camp in the Perin mountains. A large Turkish force has been sent to the Perin mountains to suppress the rebellion in her own territory as she thinks best.

RUSSIA UPHOLDS TURKEY.

Hands a Note to the Bulgarian Government That Causes Excitement.

VIENNA, Sept. 25.—It is reported that a Russian note, which was handed to the Bulgarian government to-night, has caused excitement in Sofia. The note recognizes Turkey as the premier power in the Balkan states and admits her right to suppress a rebellion in her own territory as she thinks
best.

No Word at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—The State Department had no fresh news from Minister Leishman to-day. The American minister has had several conferences with Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish foreign minister, concerning the settlement of the Macedonian question. While definite conclusions have not been reached, no doubt exists that the Sultan's government. While definite conclusions have not been reached, no doubt exists that the Sultan's government. While definite conclusions have not been reached, no doubt exists that the Sultan's government.

England in Full Accord with Russia and Austria—Dismissing News from Seat of Trouble.

LONDON, Sept. 25.—Premier Balfour, in a long letter to the Archbishop of Canterbury, Dr. Davidson, discusses the Macedonian situation. The letter is a reply to the archbishop's action in drawing attention to the growing discontent among churchmen at the apparent apathy of the powers "while unspeakable atrocities are perpetrated in Macedonia."

Mr. Balfour says he is in entire sympathy with the feelings of horror and indignation and fully understands the desire to give expression in public meeting to the sentiment of reprobation which recent events have justified. Mr. Balfour then proceeds to analyze the situation. He says:
"We have not to deal with a simple question of misgovernment or oppression by Turkish officials, but with a problem complicated by the fact that the Christian population of Macedonia is rent in fragments by differences of race, aggravated by differences of religion, and added to the ill inflicted by a corrupt and incapable administration and by an ill-paid and undisciplined soldiery and by a detestable system of taxation, we have to reckon with all the ill which, in a population not imbued with Western ideas of humanity, rival nationalities and sects, do not scruple to inflict on one another."

It was a matter of congratulation when Russia and Austria, acting with the authority of Europe, proposed to press the scholars of reforms which, while lacking in theoretical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more earnestly pressed by the Porte and more frankly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their best to drive the Turk to excesses and furnish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual,
was dilatory, and failed to see that a policy
of humanity was a policy of wisdom. The
revolutionaries have deliberately done their
best to drive the Turk to excesses and fur-
nish him with an excuse for his lawless
conduct. The revolutionaries have deliberately
done their best to drive the Turk to excesses
and furnish him with an excuse for his law-
less conduct. The revolutionaries have delib-
erately done their best to drive the Turk to
excesses and furnish him with an excuse for
his lawless conduct.

It is a matter of congratulation when
Russia and Austria, acting with the author-
ity of Europe, proposed to press the schol-
ars of reforms which, while lacking in theo-
retical perfection, came within the circuit of
practical politics, and would, if more ear-
nestly pressed by the Porte and more fran-
kly accepted by the Macedonian population,
have spared the Macedonian horrors it has
witnessed. Neither of these wishes has been
fulfilled. The Porte, as usual, was dilatory, and